

Discontinued support for Windows XP in Ocean 2014

Background

There are several reasons for us to end the support for Windows XP:

- Microsoft terminated the support for Windows XP on April 8, 2014 (it was introduced in 2001).
- It is not recommended to continue to use Windows XP since Microsoft no longer update the operating system due to security risks.
- We cannot ensure that Ocean 2014 continues to work properly since the operating system is not updated any longer.
- We cannot continue to develop Ocean 2014 and use newer tools in the way we want if we must continue support Windows XP.

Ocean 2014

Ocean 2014 will not run on Windows XP from the release R16-1 (planned date is May, 2016). Users who want/must use a computer with Windows XP cannot upgrade.

Ocean and Ortigo are not affected; they will continue to run on Windows XP.
